

Erick Vergara

WEB DEVELOPER

Profile

Towards the end of my internship, I was tasked with coding for the company's SharePoint. Passionate about programming, I eagerly embraced the challenge. After completing my internship, I relocated to a new city, starting anew. There, I met a senior developer who introduced me to the world of programming. Since then, my thirst for knowledge has been unending, as I continually strive to acquire new skills and make meaningful contributions in the real world.
